INTRODUCTION

The purpose of the Austin History Center is to provide customers with information about the history and current events of Austin and Travis County by collecting, organizing, and preserving research materials and assisting in their use so that customers can learn from the community's collective memory.

The collections of the AHC contain valuable materials about Austin and Travis County's Mexican American communities. The materials in the resource guide are arranged by collection unit of the Austin History Center. Within each collection unit, items are arranged in shelf-list order.

This guide is one of a series of updates to the original 1977 version compiled by Austin History staff. It reflects the addition of materials to the Austin History Center based on the recommendations and donations of many generous individuals, support groups and Austin History Center staff.

The Austin History Center card catalog supplements the Find It: Austin Public Library On-Line Library Catalog by providing analytical entries to information in periodicals and other materials in addition to listing individual items in the collection with entries under author, title, and subject. These tools lead to specific articles and other information in sources that would otherwise be very difficult to find.

It must be noted that there are still significant gaps remaining in our collection in regards to the Mexican American community. Please see the final section of this guide, "Under-documented Areas of Interest," for a detailed listing of topics about which additional material is still needed. Without your donation and assistance, it would not be possible to preserve the history of Austin's Mexican American community. The Austin History Center asks for your support in this endeavor.

We would like to invite you to visit our AHC Website @ <http://library.austintexas.gov/ahc/about-us> and our AHC Facebook site @ <https://www.facebook.com/AustinHistoryCenter>.

Austin Alliance for Smooth Transition Records

The Austin Alliance for Smooth Transition (AAST) was organized in 1976, at the urging of the League of Women Voters of Austin, as a group of concerned individual and organizations to discuss how Austin, Texas could prevent the impending desegregation order from being the divisive and disruptive issue that it had been in other cities. AAST believed that public understanding and acceptance of a complex and difficult issue could be best fostered through timely and accurate information. The original principal activities were listed as: make accurate information available; generate resources from community groups to assist desegregation; encourage voluntary participation of interested citizens, parents, and students; provide a Speakers Bureau for groups who request information; coordinate activities of groups in the desegregation field; involve students in get-acquainted programs for new students; research and develop Fact Sheets on desegregation topics; and provide training workshops for facilitators. The first meeting was held on June 15, 1976 and was attended by over 40 members and more than 15 community groups. The group decided to have three co-presidents; one African American, one Mexican American and one Caucasian. By January 1977 the organization reported a "tri-ethnic membership of some 150 individuals and representative of organizations...." AAST received funding from a Emergency School Assistance Act (ESAA) in 1977 and again in 1979. <https://legacy.lib.utexas.edu/taro/aushc/00644/ahc-00644.html>

MAP COLLECTION

The Map Collection contains items that graphically illustrate the boundaries and features of Austin/Travis County, especially as they trace changes describing the growth of the area.

M – 34      Oakwood cemetery annex. Austin, Texas. Surveyed and mapped by Orin E. Metcalf, 1929 (photo copy 90 x 48)

Map Case      Parks - Zaragosa

- N – 149      Survey of property adjacent to Zaragosa Park, October 27, 1967
Blueprint 61 x 93
- Rolled Map      Recreation areas – Texas – Travis County
O – 64      Austin schools and recreation facilities. Austin Department of Planning,
Drawn September 1960 (107 x 165 printed on linen)

MICROFILM COLLECTION

The Microfilm Collection includes Travis County records as well as individual monographs, periodicals, and drawings.

- AAV      Kuhr, Nancy Jane Newton. Catholic parochial schools in the Austin
Micfm      Diocese, 1974.
Ku      Discusses the history of Our Lady of Guadalupe Church (pp. 88-90)

Travis County Records

Information contained in the roll of microfilm consists of the following:

- Voter registration (1867, 1873, 1892)
- Registration of autos (1909 – 1917)
- Land registration (1885)
- Record of occupational taxes (1907)

- Survey records, 1838 – 1948 (scattered)
- Probate records, 1840 – 1918
- Plat records, 1877 - 1976

Sanborn Fire Insurance Maps

Detailed, block level maps of the city, including showing footprints of buildings and detailing building materials used. The Austin History Center has Sanborn Maps from 1885 to 1970s. Some Sanborn maps are available from the library's Online Database page. The Digital Sanborn Maps database is available thru the TexShare program, but an Austin Public Library card to access this from your home computer is required.

Austin City Directories

City directories are perhaps one of the best resources to find property information or see when an individual might have lived in Austin. The Austin History Center has the City Directory on microfilm from 1877 to 1960.

U.S. Census Office

Census information is available on microfilm for the following time periods listed below at the Austin History Center. Census information dating from the 1790 to 1940 may also be accessed electronically through Heritage Quest Online and Ancestry Library Edition. The Austin Public Library subscribes to both databases. Ancestry Library Edition is available only in the library, whereas, Heritage Quest Online is available in the library, or from home with a valid APL card.

1850 – 7 th census	1910 – 13 th census
1870 – 9 th census	1920 – 14 th census

UNDER - DOCUMENTED AREAS OF INTEREST

Time Period of Information Needed: Late 1800s to 1970s

Austin's Mexican American community has a wealth of information in its cultural heritage and traditions. As you browse thru the Resource Guide, you will notice that there is very little information if none at all, on some of the headings listed below. It is our belief that information related to these topics may be found in personal papers and family collections stored in attics, basements, garages or other storage facilities. The vast majority of collections at the Austin History Center have been donated by generous individuals and organizations throughout our community. We greatly appreciate such generosity and rely heavily on this support in order to continue building collections for future generations. Check out the hyperlink Donation Guidelines to see how you can make your archives part of Austin's history.
